DIRECTOR OF FACILITIES MANAGEMENT

Choate Rosemary Hall is a highly selective, co-educational boarding school dedicated to transformative student experiences. Drawing on over 120 years as a demonstrated leader in education, Choate has moved with confidence into the 21st century, integrating innovation with traditional strengths. Choate invites applications, nominations, and inquiries as it embarks upon a search for a Director of Facilities Management, a key position overseeing facilities maintenance, campus planning, construction management, and other critical components of a complex portfolio.

Choate Rosemary Hall

Choate unites creative, passionate, and engaged young people with dedicated educators in a diverse but cohesive community. Through a rigorous curriculum that combines breadth of knowledge with signature immersion experiences, Choate students hone the ability to think independently and critically, to express themselves confidently and cogently, and to delight in the beauty of ideas and inquiry. The connections forged among Choate students, and between students and their mentors, nurture in them the spirit to care about the welfare of others, to respect their environment, and to improve the world they are inheriting.

Comprised of 850 students and over 300 faculty and staff, Choate attracts intellectually gifted and motivated students from diverse backgrounds whose commitment to serious study is enhanced in this personally supportive and academically challenging setting. Two interwoven priorities define the Choate experience: a rigorous academic curriculum and an emphasis on the formation of character in a residential setting that allows for teachers and students to live with, and learn from, each other in important ways. On a campus that inspires a particular sensitivity to beauty, teachers — who share genuine respect and affection for young people — impart an enthusiasm for life and for learning.

Choate is confident that its graduates will go forth from a school that values each of them for their particular talents and enthusiasms; that affirms the importance of personal integrity and a sense of self-worth; that inspires and nourishes joy in learning and love of truth; and that provides the intellectual stimulation to generate independent thought, confident expression, and a commitment to improve the welfare of others.
Situated on 458 acres in Wallingford, Connecticut, about halfway between Hartford and New Haven, Choate is two hours from New York City and Boston.

Choate’s financial condition is strong with an endowment value of over $400 million and an annual operating budget of approximately $70 million. To learn more about Choate, please visit www.choate.edu.

Alex Curtis, Head of School

Alex Curtis is in his tenth year as Head of School at Choate Rosemary Hall. Since his appointment, Dr. Curtis has led a number of important initiatives including the full adoption of a one-to-one iPad program and the creation of a campus master plan and task force on community. He also spearheaded the School’s first comprehensive strategic planning process in 20 years.

Embarking on his 25th year in educational leadership and administration, Dr. Curtis has presented on various topics at the National Association of Independent Schools (NAIS) annual meeting and NAIS’s Summit on the Science of Learning and 21st Century Schools. Dr. Curtis is former President of the Eight Schools Association and serves as a Council Member of The Heads Network. He joined The Association of Boarding Schools’ (TABS) Board of Directors in 2017.

An architectural historian, Dr. Curtis earned his doctorate from Princeton University’s Department of Art and Archaeology. He has overseen the design and building of three LEED-Certified campus facilities: the Cameron and Edward Lanphier Center for Mathematics and Computer Science, which opened in 2015; St. John Hall student center, which opened in 2017; and the Ann and George Colony Hall for dance, music, and voice, which opened in 2019. Colony Hall includes a recital hall, dance studio, and practice rooms, as well as a 1,070 seat auditorium capable of seating the entire student body and faculty in one place.

Patrick Durbin, Chief Financial Officer

Patrick Durbin joined the Choate community in July 2020. He served previously as the Senior Associate Dean for Finance and Administration and Chief Financial Officer at the Georgetown College of Arts and Sciences, the largest academic unit at Georgetown University in Washington, DC. There, he provided strategic management and oversight pertaining to the finances of the University, which include budget, human resources and staffing, and systems infrastructure.

At Choate, he oversees the following functional areas: Community Safety; Facilities Services, which consists of both Maintenance and Construction Management/Planning; Finance, which includes Accounting, Budgeting and Planning, Cash Management, Endowment Management, and both Internal and External Financial Reporting; Human Resources; Legal and Risk Management; and Support Services, which include Food Service, Housekeeping, Laundry, Mailroom, Sally Hart Lodge, and School Store.

He is a member of the School's Covid-19 Task Force that has been planning for and oversaw the School’s reopening plans.

Director of Facilities Management

Reporting to the CFO, the Director of Facilities Management manages and directs all of Choate’s facilities-related functions. This includes:

- Construction management: oversee annual operating and capital projects budget in excess of $10 million. This involves managing the selection of architects and contractors and keeping projects on schedule and on budget.

- Facilities management: maintain integrity of the School’s physical assets by overseeing planning, renewal, and general maintenance repair. Oversee all maintenance and upkeep of 458 acres of campus grounds, 30 student residential buildings, 100+ faculty residences, 20 fields, an ice hockey rink, pool, tennis courts, and fleet management of 50 vehicles. Oversee departments including carpentry, painting, lock shop, plumbing, electrical, and HVAC. Ensure full compliance with environmental health and safety regulations and interface with various town, state, and federal agencies.

- Strategic campus planning: recommend and develop operating plans to encompass new initiatives of the School, including sustainability and energy conservation.

The Director of Facilities Management works closely with the CFO and external stakeholders; provides strategic and operational leadership and advice; and is responsible for contributing to strategy decisions. The Director has five direct reports in Facilities, including two project managers who oversee construction projects, and managers leading Grounds, HVAC, and Maintenance divisions. The Director indirectly oversees the work of approximately 40 Choate staff members and 50 contract staff.

Specifically, the Director will:

- Serve as the chief advisor to the CFO on all matters related to construction management, facilities maintenance, and campus planning. This position will also work collaboratively with the CFO and Choate community to ensure open communication about the operational health and goals of the institution and how the School’s physical assets support these goals.

- Oversee the analysis, interpretation, and communication of institution-wide facilities information. In keeping with the academic and strategic goals, develop, evaluate, and implement operational plans and policies; forecast critical milestones and potential obstacles; distill issues and decision points; and identify and assess alternatives.

- Increase the efficiency and impact of operational processes and oversee the development and monitor the results of the operating and capital budgets of the divisions in the portfolio. Ensure processes are well coordinated across the institution, aligned with priorities, safeguard its assets, minimize institutional risks and costs, and are communicated openly.

- Oversee all campus maintenance, renewal and capital projects. Must be able to identify, evaluate, and prioritize the needs of the School within budget and personnel limitations. Review bids, drawings, construction work, and invoicing to ensure the completion of projects in a cost effective, high quality manner.

- Manage all operating and capital budgets of the facilities department to ensure needs of school maintenance programs and major projects are properly staffed and completed. Accurate pre-planning of projects is essential to ensure all projects be completed with top quality workmanship and delivered on time and on budget.

- Identify, measure, and manage insurable risks and hazards and oversee the implementation of risk solutions that help optimize facility operations. Provide assistance, advice and guidance to Community Safety including ensuring safety of all community members by ensuring the proper functioning of life/safety issues (e.g., fire alarm, emergency notification systems, exit lighting). Work with local safety and state compliance officials where necessary.

- Conduct safety training for facilities staff and promote safe workplace practices. Make certain all personnel are properly certified in their area of expertise.

- Support and work closely with the Information Technology department to assist with capital upgrades and associated infrastructure needs. Be an advocate of new technology, processes, and initiatives to improve the efficiency of the facilities staff and the School’s resources.

- Have overall responsibility for the carbon footprint, energy management, and sustainability programs at the School.

- Prepare information and reports to communicate current status on budget, capital projects, and deferred maintenance for senior management.

- Communicate successfully with all members and levels of the institution.
• Direct and oversee the hiring, development, management, and evaluation of staff.

• Participate in disaster recovery planning and management.

• Maintain communication with town and state agencies as required, ensuring all required permits, approvals, licenses, etc. are obtained for all facilities, buildings, vehicles, and grounds.

The most successful candidates will:
• Be committed to the mission and expectations of a highly regarded boarding school. Thrive in a close-knit, diversity-minded, student-focused community.

• Speak and communicate effectively with a wide range of constituencies across the institution (Head of School, CFO, facilities managers, trades workers, students, faculty, staff, and community).

• Be willing and able to make difficult, timely, and financially responsible decisions with the ability to articulate and resolve risk, legal, and institutional considerations in all decision making.

• Possess a high degree of professional discretion, integrity, good judgment, and high standards of professional conduct.

• Be able to move fluidly from one task to another within a variety of areas of responsibility smoothly and seamlessly in order to support the CFO, senior officers, and direct reports and their departments. Must also be able to address issues from all faculty and staff as well as outsourced services.

• Be a strong, experienced, and sophisticated project manager who can create and enforce clear administrative systems, policies, and guidelines.

• Be an effective, fair, and open negotiator who is committed to a transparent and collaborative decision-making process with all parts of the Choate community.

Requirements:
Ten or more years of directly related experience in a progressively responsible facilities management position. Ability to demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the full range of experience within an independent boarding school environment preferred. Proven ability to affect and influence change through a communicative, collaborative, and inclusive style. Excellent communication, problem solving, and project management skills.
